GARBER

The past week in temperature is all that any one could wish, except that we need rain very bad, as the farmers are unable to plow and finish their fall seeding, about all the corn fodder has been carefully harvested and put away for winter use as there was no corn to speak of this crop was cared for earlier than usual.

A few tourists keep coming in occasionally but not the number that usually is here at this time of year. The coming month may bring more, as it is the banner month in the year as all pests are gone. The foliage will soon begin to take on the various colors and furnish some of the finest scenery to be found any place in the world, and the real lovers of nature can satisfy themselves with the charms of the hills better than in any other month of the year.

Ernest F. Reed of Ardmore, Okla., hiked it from Ozark and across the hills last week to Garber and thence to Marvel cave and the old "Mathews" place.
He stopped on his way down at Bonnie Brook on Bear creek and spent some time with the O'Neal family of whom he was partially acquainted and had an old time chat. Mr. Reed was raised in Ozark where his father is editor of one of the papers and although away for several years takes delight in coming back to the hills for his vacation.

Hillard Davis has purchased the Jim Smith house just above Garber and will move in soon.

J. W. Vining has sold the Lester Vining place to G. B. Boraker who will probably move back from Aurora soon, thus filling up the vacant house again.

Miss Bertha Ray was taken sick last week and has been unable to be out of bed until this morning, we learn she is better and will be at her school again soon.

Mrs. Mattie Cox and Mrs. Nellie Fronaberger drove over to Reeds Spring Monday after tomatoes for canning purposes.

W. M. Franklin the congenial telephone man of Branson came out last Saturday, and has been overhauling our telephones, some trouble for the last several weeks has made it very difficult to get into Branson by wire, and we hope that the defects what ever they be will be remedied. Mr. Franklin a rather large man does not hesitate to climb a tree or scale precipitous bluff as well as go into the delicate machinery of the telephone.

Homer Johnson was a visitor last Saturday in Garber on business.

The cattlemen are now busy rounding up their cattle for the fall delivery the first of the month and many of the fine fat steers will leave the hills for other places only to be replaced by others for another years growth.

E. A. Drumm and Thomas Walden have gone to the DeGroot goat ranch to pick out some of his choice breeding stock of which Mr. DeGroot makes a specialty of raising.
